(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend only within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, subject to the rule's stated exceptions.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena.

(2)(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things may serve a written objection before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after service.

(d)(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that fails to allow a reasonable time to comply, exceeds the geographical limits, requires disclosure of privileged or protected matter, or subjects a person to undue burden.

If produced information is later claimed privileged or protected, the recipient must promptly return, sequester, or destroy it pending resolution.
